

When Dreams Come True

Wedding Planner Widely Known for Creative, Personal Touches That Surpass All Others

CANTON, MICHIGAN – Dream Wedding & Event Planners is widely known for going all out and scaling the top to stage unique, premier events with highly-personalized service for clients.

For the upcoming event for 350 of the top advertisers in the Detroit Metro area on The Knot, Kathy Byrum of Dream Wedding & Event Planners will be using an “Evening in Paris” theme set up with a 48 foot long by 12-foot high computer image of a window view of the Paris skyline. Accentuating that theme will be French mimes, a soloist singing French songs, and a symphony playing French music.

Other special touches Byrum has offered to personalize a wedding or major event includes a Cuban cigar roller, Rolls Royce with chauffeur, music by the Detroit Symphony or Plymouth Symphony, ice sculptures, special lighting such as a chandelier with changing colors, or almost anything the client requests.

For another recent wedding, Byrum hired a balloon company to offer tether rides for guests. “The pilot fully inflated his hot air balloon at night,” says Byrum, “and it looked like a huge colored light bulb with a full moon in the background. It was spectacular.”

In just seven years Kathy Byrum has become the resource brides turn to when looking for creativity, vision and expertise. She is widely known as a wedding expert who uses impeccable elements and resources to create a wedding beyond the bride’s most enchanting dreams.

“I personally invest myself in my clients as if they were my own family,” says Byrum. “I make them feel comfortable and relaxed by building a trust relationship with them. I provide guidance and support while relieving couples of any stress or worries. Planning and coordinating is not just a job: It’s my passion!”

An example of that passion in action is when she was putting on an outside tented event on the grounds of a local school in Ann Arbor, Michigan. The lawn had been neatly groomed around the tent, but the grass under the tent was very long. The maintenance staff was not available, so Kathy rushed home and returned with her lawnmower and cut the grass while her staff proceeded with the setup.

Another example is when a couple was ready to leave their wedding reception because their 1-year-old and 2-year-old children were acting up, creating great stress for them. Kathy went home and returned with a crib, blanket and bottle and assigned a staff member to babysit until the reception ended.

A bride that was married in New York was having a reception in Michigan. Her couture bridal gown was slightly dirty after her New York reception, so she turned her gown over to a dry cleaner to be cleaned for the reception. The day before the reception, they discovered that her designer gown was ruined. Relying on her contacts and relationships with professionals, Kathy referred a local couture gown designer, Katerina Bocci, who recreated the gown by the next day. "What normally would take eight months to complete was done overnight," explains Byrum, "The bride appeared at the reception in a gown that looked exactly like the one she wore at her wedding in New York."
